

Re: Audio for your transcript

Subject: Re: Audio for your transcript
From: Walt Tuvell <Walt.Tuvell@gmail.com>
Date: 11/14/18, 11:23 AM
To: Mark A Barrette <mark.barrette@jud.state.ma.us>

OK, good, Mark. I'll try this. I'll include both the MP3 and the PDF on the CD, just to be sure.

I'll get back to you with what I find out.

Thanks!

— Walt

On 11/14/18 10:33 AM, Mark A Barrette wrote:

Hi,

Okay, if the court accepts your transcript then I guess it's okay. Yes, just put the pdf on a Cd and submit.

Thank you

Mark Barrette

Transcription Coordinator
Office of Transcription Services
2 Center Plaza, 9th Floor
Boston, MA 02108

From: "Walt Tuvell" <walt.tuvell@gmail.com>
To: "Mark Barrette" <mark.barrette@jud.state.ma.us>
Sent: Wednesday, November 14, 2018 8:52:27 AM
Subject: Re: Audio for your transcript

Hi Mark, good morning!

I personally made the transcription (attached, and also on my website). I was careful to negotiate this choice with the Defendant (Marshall), according to the rules of court (which did not specify that a court-approved transcriber needed to be used), and he had no objections (because he could compare my transcription with the MP3, also on my website).

If all the court needs is the PDF on a CD, I can burn one myself, right? (The clerk I spoke to yesterday said the court needed the MP3, so you can understand why I'm confused ...)

— Walt

On 11/14/18 8:20 AM, Mark A Barrette wrote:

Hi Walt,

A Cd recording of the hearing is not necessary for an appeal. The Appeals court needs a the pdf of the transcript on a Cd.

Now you mention that "you made a transcription yourself." Did you use a transcriber from our approved list or did you personally produce the transcript?

Thank you

Mark Barrette

Transcription Coordinator
Office of Transcription Services
2 Center Plaza, 9th Floor
Boston, MA 02108

From: "Walt Tuvell" <walt.tuvell@gmail.com>
To: "Mark Barrette" <mark.barrette@jud.state.ma.us>
Sent: Wednesday, November 14, 2018 6:20:42 AM
Subject: Re: Audio for your transcript

Yes, Mark, thank you for getting back to me so promptly! I am pursuing an appeal at Middlesex Superior Court (Woburn), case №1781CV02701 (docket attached). I also have a website, and the case is also documented there: <http://judicialmisconduct.us/CaseStudies/TUVELLvMARSHALL>.

I need a transcript of the oral argument. I spoke to two clerks, and they gave me different information. I also read the rules of court, but perhaps I don't understand them well enough.

One clerk told me audio recordings were available at For The Record, <http://us.court.fm>. I visited that website, and got access to the audio I need (attached). I downloaded it (as an MP3), and transcribed it (without objection from the Defendant), which I've already filed with the court. Both the audio MP3 and the transcript are available on my website. I thought that was all I needed to do.

But the other clerk I spoke to (yesterday) said I needed to contact your office, and order a CD, to be sent to the court (not to me). I wasn't clear what was supposed to happen then. In particular, it wasn't clear how I was supposed to arrange for a transcription (they're expensive, and unnecessary in this case, since I've already made a perfectly good transcription myself).

So, can you help me out with these things?

Thanks again!

— Walt Tuvell

On 11/13/18 4:21 PM, Mark A Barrette wrote:

Hello Mr. Tuvell,

We received your phone call and can answer any questions that you may have. You mentioned that you would prefer using email.

Thank you

Mark Barrette

Re: Audio for your transcript

Transcription Coordinator
Office of Transcription Services
2 Center Plaza, 9th Floor
Boston, MA 02108